In Place Since Civil War—Lettering in Good Shape

C. A. Allen Meets Mishap in Cranking Automobile

Manager C. A. Allen of the Hammond Beef Co., met with a serious accident Friday afternoon while cranking his automobile. His machine being at a standstill he advanced the spark and gasoline valve giving it a greater supply than necessary when it wrenched his wrist in such a manner as to fracture the small bone. Drs. Berry and Taylor reduced the fracture. Mr. Allen will be unable to workmen making repairs on the rear of the Mugridge property occupied by the Portsmouth Wine company recently were obliged to remove an old sign of Union Store conducted for many years by John H. Slater. The sign has been in place since the civil war and though the long exposure to the weather had cleared the boards of the painting. Other than the lettering, the word could be easily distinguished and shows the fine workmanship of the man with the brush in days gone by.

MOBILIZATION OF WARSHIPS

Will Be Greatest Naval Force Ever Floated in Waters of America

Washington, Oct. 13.—The mobilization of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets at New York and Los Angeles October 30 to November 2 will mark the gathering of the greatest naval force that ever floated in the waters of this hemisphere. This probably will be the last assemblage of present day warships with the United States of America standing second in the list of great maritime powers.

For it is certain that at the rate of development of Germany's shipbuilding plans that nation within three years at least will move up to second place unless congress should see fit to authorize each year additions to the American navy at least double those now provided for by the existing naval program which contemplates the construction of but two battleships yearly.

The navy department made public today the full list of the vessels to be gathered for the great reviews at New York and Los Angeles and while the number combined does not equal the 135 vessels reviewed by the German emperor at Kiel last summer the 126 American ships with their tremendous displacement of 693,844 tons are really more powerful than the German fleet.

The Atlantic fleet will comprise 102 vessels of all classes with a total displacement of 577,500 tons, and the Pacific fleet twenty-four vessels of 16,245 tons. The combined fleets include thirty-two armored ships while the German fleet numbered twenty-five. The American battleships will number twenty-five and the armored cruisers six, while the German fleet included twenty-three battleships and six armored cruisers.

The following vessels will be mobilized at New York.

Battleships—Connecticut, Florida, Utah, Delaware, North Dakota, Michigan, Louisiana, South Carolina, Kansas, Vermont, New Hampshire, Mississippi, Minnesota, Idaho, Missouri, Ohio, Georgia, Nebraska, New Jersey, Virginia, Maine, Iowa, Indiana, Massachusetts. Total tonnage 366,864.

Armored cruisers—Washington and North Carolina. Tonnage, 29,000.

Protected cruisers—Salem and Des Moines. Tonnage 6,850.

Destroyers—Reid, Flusser, Lamson, Preston, Smith, Drayton, Paulding, McCall, Roe, Terry, Perkins, Mayrant, Sterrett, Wilke, Warrington, Patterson, Monaghan, Anson, Burrows, Trippe, MacDonough, Worden. Total tonnage 15,463.

Torpedo boats—Porter, Blakely, Dupont, Barney, Middle, Craven, Dahlgren, DeLong, Stockton, Tinney, Wilkes, Bagley, Bailey, Strathmore, Morris. Total tonnage 2,934.

Submarine—Grayling, Bonita, Narwhal, Salmon, Snapper, Slingray, Tarpon, Octopus; torpedo boat tenders Dixie, Castine and Severn. Total tonnage 8,466.

Gunboat—Nashville, Dolphin, Marietta and Petrel. Total tonnage 4,737.

Auxiliaries—Prairie (transport), San Francisco (mine layer), Lebanon (ammunition ship), Panther (repair), Mayflower (converted yacht), Yankton (tender), Celtic and Cugoan (supply ships), Solace (hospital ship). Total tonnage 40,733.

Coastalers—Neptune, Cyclops, Hector, Mars, Vulcan, Ajax, Brutus and Sterlin. Total tonnage, 93,935.

Oil tanker—Arethusa. Tonnage, 6,150.

Tugs—Paluxent, Patasco and Potomac. Total tonnage, 2,255.

The composition of the Pacific fleet will be as follows:

Battleship—Oregon. Tonnage, 10,288.

Armored cruisers—California, South Dakota, Maryland, West Virginia and Colorado. Total tonnage, 68,400.

Cruisers—Cincinnati and Raleigh. Tonnage, 6,366.

Destroyers—Whipple, Hopkins, Hull, Truxton, Paul Jones, Proctor, Stewart, and Lawrence. Total tonnage 3,342.

REVOLUTION IN CHINA SPREADS

Government Defending Capital, Where Garrison Is Honeycombed with Disaffection—Reports that Ichang and Yochow Have Fallen

Peking, Oct. 13.—Revolution is closing in on Peking. The menace that hangs over the ruling Manchou dynasty is no longer confined to the central provinces, a thousand miles inland. The capital itself is threatened. The garrison here is honeycombed with disaffection. Officials admissions of this were forthcoming today and the loyalty of the garrisons at Paoingfu and Tientsin in the great military posts which guard the capital, is no more dependable.

Every effort of the Government is being bent toward providing adequate defense for Peking. The sixth division of the Imperial Army was ordered this afternoon to entertain for the capital. The program for the autumn manoeuvres in Kaifong, 400 miles south, has been cancelled. The 30,000 troops ordered there have been recalled.

All available railway equipment is being used for carrying toward the capital from the north troops that will be used first to guard the lines and later if possible attempts to recapture the cities taken by the revolutionists.

Eight train loads of troops were started this afternoon for Paoingfu Province of Chihli.

His party killed seven Moros and broke up the band.

TENNESSEE DEFEATED BY FORT MCKINLEY

PORTSMOUTH, N.H.

The football team from the U. S. S. Tennessee journeyed to Portland on Friday and were defeated by the strong Fort McKinley team of the Coast Artillery.

The soldiers have a fine football team and they have one advantage of having played together for the past three years, and of excellent coaching. They are much heavier than the sailors and used their great weight to an advantage in rushing the ball, but at times were unable to stop the rush of the sailors, until their goal line was threatened when they got busy.

Although they rolled up a score of 23 to 0 against the sailors, it was a much better game than the score indicated.

The sailors were successful several times in using the forward pass, and worked the ball down the field with good runs, but were unable to score. Several times the soldiers put in fresh linemen, when their goal was threatened. Had the sailors had a good drop kicker they would have scored on at least two occasions.

A return game has been arranged for this city, in two weeks time and the boys from the Tennessee will give the soldiers a better game.

ALL YOU NEED IS A CASCARET TONIGHT

No Sick Headache, Bilious Stomach, Coated Tongue or Constipated Bowels by Morning

Turn the rascals out—the headache, the biliousness, the indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse and regulate your stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery-making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out the system all the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A ten-cent box from any drug store means a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Children love to take Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.

DECIDED IN FAVOR OF GOVERNMENT

Baltimore, Oct. 13.—In the United States Circuit Court here today Judge John C. Rose rendered a decision in favor of the Government in its dissolution suit against the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company and others, the so-called "bath-tub trust."

Judge Pritchard concurred with Judge Rose, while Judge Coff dissenting. The decision is most sweeping in its character. Edwin P. Grosvenor, special assistant to the United States Attorney General and United States District Attorney John Phillip Hill of Baltimore, who conducted the case for the Government, stated that today's decision supports the Government's contention on every point. The action was brought under the Sherman anti-trust law. In case of an appeal it will go direct to the United States Supreme Court. While this criminal action against the alleged trust at Detroit, the proceedings concern the same subject matter and are against the same defendants. The criminal cases, which concern more than a score of firm and individuals alleged to be in the bathtub trust probably will come up at the November term of the Federal Court at Detroit. All the defendants have pleaded not guilty.

Under the Court's ruling, Edwin L. Wayman, patentee of an enamel dredger, who issued licenses of the patent to the defendant concern, is held as much subject to the laws governing monopolies as any other man, and while he still has the right to exclude all others from making use of his patents, "he cannot have the right to sell indulgences" in violation of the anti-trust act. It was on the patent holdings of Wayman that the fifty defendants in the case upheld the right of their action in the combine and the Government maintained that this was but a subterfuge. Judge Coff's opinion in dissent was very brief. He held that the facts established by the testimony considered in the light of the law applicable thereto, compel me to conclude that the allegations of the petition have not been sustained. Judge Rose said that the evidence shows that two of the individual defendants—Berl O. Tiden and George W. Franzheim secretaries of the Colwell Lead and the Wheeling Enamelled Iron companies, respectively had no part in forming the combination, and that as to them the petition should be dismissed.

OLD PORTSMOUTH'S HISTORY SAFE

President Taft announces himself strongly in favor of the battleship Oregon as the first vessel to pass through the Panama canal. Very well—so be it. New Hampshire, much as she reveres the brave old Portsmouth, is not blind to the more recent history on which the Oregon's claims are based. So far as honorable record is concerned, the initial passage of the canal cannot add a jot to, nor detract a little from, the glory of either ship.—The Union.

TO NEW YORK VIA NORTH STATION

Some day the South and North stations in Boston will be so joined that travel north and south through the city will be unbroken practically for those who wish to make the Hub a way station en route to or from the recreation centers of the north and the urban communities and manufacturing towns of states to the south of Massachusetts. Plans for this project now half in part owing to conditions of business not conducive to large borrowings or major ventures in increase of liabilities. There are, however, usually more ways than one of accomplishing an end, partially, if not completely, so it is not surprising to find that the New York, New Haven and Hartford railway officials are planning to push through the proposed short line of road that will connect the Capital Massachusetts road with the Boston and Albany, and, under an arrangement with the latter, give a route via Springfield that will enable traveling to be run into the North station, and making direct connections for New Hampshire, Maine and the Provinces. Stockholders and the railroad commission having given their assent, it is reasonable to suppose that by spring northern New England will have better facilities for getting to New York and beyond.—Christian Science Monitor.

Had the Boston Chamber of Commerce (of Boston) been alive the tunnel connecting the North and South stations would now be underway. Doubtless the tunnel will be the most advanced to the lake no other.

upbuilding of New England that has been suggested by President Mellen. The Boston Tunnel will boom Boston by pouring more people into New England. Let Boston help New England.

BIRD'S EYE VIEWS

Let the trial of McNamara proceed without delay. Let it be without fear and just. The people want it to be fair on both sides and no miscarriage of justice.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

Building Up New England

Joint purchase by the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Canadian Pacific railroads of the Quebec Central road seems to assure permanent rights of entrance to and exit from Quebec for the Boston & Maine and Maine Central lines. It creates no new traffic rights or ways of routing, for both roads for some years have been sending trains between Sherbrooke and Quebec and Megantic and Quebec. What has been accomplished by this purchase is a virtual extension of the New Haven system into a region of Canada where considerable traffic originates, a region that has a terminal on the St. Lawrence river much nearer the Atlantic than Montreal.

When reciprocity of trade between the Dominion and the United States is reached and the business of transportation for lines tapping the two countries seems foredoomed to grow swiftly, Boston and New England has every reason to feel content with the outlook for the future, as her position as a railway terminal is strengthened by action enlarging the scope of the system centering within the city. A corresponding duty devolves upon the community of providing dock and harbor equipment adequate to handle the new trade that is being turned this way.—Says the Christian Science Monitor; and President Mellen's plan should be rushed. Let the people demand of their representatives in office that the plans contemplated for making the Boston port capable of doing the business be not delayed. Let the Chamber of Commerce stand behind of President Mellen in his work to bring New England to the front.

Uncle Sam, in a Costly, Demoralizing Tangle

The Washington navy yard is something over $3,000,000 short, but it is explained that nobody is suspected of stealing anything and the government has probably lost little or nothing. But inventory methods, or at most none at all, and execrable book keeping, and accounting are given as the explanation.
Reform of course, we will have. No private business could go on in such fashion without being ruined and government business can be conducted in this manner only because of a complaint laxity about what it costs to perform government functions. There is no way to standardize government business. There is nothing to compare it with. We all know that our navy is horrible expensive compared to what we get for the money.
Reform in such affairs is an excellent thing. But it is not amiss to suggest that there is possibility of going to the other extreme and that the so-called economy commission of President Taft, headed by Mr. Cleveland, shows disposition to overdo the theory of scientific management.

The Cleveland commission is undertaking to perfect the methods of doing all department business, so that every movement prescribed and de-

REAPING BENEFIT

From the Experience of Portsmouth People

We are fortunate indeed to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterances of Portsmouth residents on the following subject will interest and benefit thousands of our readers. Read this statement. No better proof can be had.
Albert W. Dunlap, 36 School St., Portsmouth, N. H., says: "I willingly verify all that I said in my former statement given for publication in the praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. I suffered from kidney disease for years and my back often became so sore and painful that I could scarcely get about. I had other difficulties which left no doubt in my mind that my kidneys were disordered. I finally procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Phillips' Pharmacy and after their use every symptom of my trouble disappeared."

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Gleanings From Files of Portsmouth Chronicle

The U. S. Ship Portsmouth.—Editors of the Chronicle: The citizens of this city must be aware of the arrival of the U. S. ship Portsmouth, and the detention of the crew in this city on account of non-payment, as yet, of their wages; twenty-one days having passed since her arrival. The crew of the Portsmouth have no confidence in the Government and the Secretary of the Navy, to think that they are at fault in the delay, but are informed it is with the officers who have of late been identified with the ship.

The crew think they have done their duty like men, and see no reason why they should be detained so long from their friends, many of them having no money in order to get home with, their expenses having been so large since they have been ashore.
Now, Messrs. Chronicle, if you can give us any information as to the cause of the detention, whether it is with the Government or the officers of the ship, you would confer a great favor on the Crew of the Portsmouth.

Reply.—We very willingly insert these statements and inquiries as requested; though we are unable to answer them, but we understood that the unfortunate delay for the poor Jack was caused by the trouble among the officers of the ship, and not by any neglect or short-coming on the part of the Government.
Eds. Chronicle.

We learn that the work of building the new branch of the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad, from Hooksett to Manchester, is progressing favorably, the earth-work being about half done. Three or four hundred men are employed by Messrs. Pierce, Jewett & Co., and they hope to finish their contract before the winter sets in. No contract for laying the track has yet been made. A considerable portion of new iron will be needed to make out the 11 miles of track to be relaid.

The large force at the Navy Yard here, are doing up the work laid out at a rapid rate. We learn that all the timber required for the four vessels in course of construction, has been received at the yard—the contractors, Messrs. Jewett and Butler, having supplied an immense amount of excellent timber in a very short time.

Boards of Trade

The successful meeting of the state board of trade at Franklin on Wednesday with its plain spoken discussion of timely topics by the governor and others, was a good index of the present high tide of interest in the work of such organizations. The fact that two new local boards were admitted to the state board at this meeting is in itself most encouraging.

And we read in our exchanges many reports of activity, which we presume were noted at the state meeting, on the part of the various town and city boards. Important results, particularly as to automobile travel, and in the North Country are sure to follow the recent meeting of the White Mountain board of trade at Lake Umbagog, Keegan Bay on Tuesday at the New England Industrial Exhibition in Boston gave the Cheshire county metropolis a lot of good advertising.

Manchester is entertaining more conventions this fall than ever before in its history and is approaching the achievement of its ambitions for a new hotel, a league baseball team, etc. Nashua is organizing its retail leaders. Here and there aid has been given in securing new industries or enlarging old ones in maintaining lecture courses and accomplishing civic, village and town improvements, a bettering public service and spreading profitable publicity.
The maximum of civic prosperity and efficiency can be obtained only through co-operation and for that the board of trade, local sectional and state, is the best and most available instrument.—Concord Monitor.

The Observer

Visitors from Portsmouth to Rockingham Park, Salem, on Columbus day, certainly got a surprise when they walked into that mammoth park with its magnificent set of grand stands, and other buildings. What an ideal location for a real New England fair or aviation meets? What a place for the quartering of 15,000 troops or more for real war practices with flying machines. The money, (over a million expended) is certainly going to come back to some one. The Queen City of the state should help make something out of the Park.

Our old friend, Fred B. Wright, the well known theatrical manager, with the late Charlie Hoya, is manager of the new Plymouth Hotel in Boston, and is making good. He has a beautiful playhouse and the Boston public will certainly find him a genial and pains taking manager. He knows the business thoroughly and his theatre is determined to be the most popular in Boston.

Isn't it strange that some of our live business men don't fully realize the importance of providing a club to meet the needs of some fifty or seventy-five naval officers continually on duty at this station. At all the other stations are club houses that are commensurate with the needs of the hundreds of visiting officers. Portsmouth's greatest asset which should be founded in importance is the navy yard. It needs careful attention and it is up to Portsmouth to protect it.

THIRD YEAR FOR CARNEY

Former Ball Player Will Again Coach N. H. College Nine

Dorham, Oct. 14.—John Carney, the old national and minor league player, and at present a scout for an American league team, will again coach the New Hampshire College baseball team this coming spring. This will make Coach Carney's third season. During the last two seasons, which he has coached, he has turned out a winning team, a team which has won more games than it has lost.
Captain George McPheters has posted a call on the bulletin board for candidates to be on hand Monday afternoon, at which time Coach Carney will be in town, and will look over the new material. Last year, a short practice was held under the direction of Captain McPheters, but Coach Carney was not here.

CONFEDERATION OF THE NEW ENGLAND PRESS

A movement is on foot for a confederation of all New England newspaper associations, to hold occasional or stated conventions at some desirable place and season, for business and pleasure combined. This combination would tend to unite all the newspaper men for the accomplishment of many desired purposes, and give a grand outing for the editors and publishers and their families at least once a year. It seems to be a very feasible as well as desirable scheme to which the attention is earnestly solicited of the New Hampshire Press, the N. H. Weekly Publishers, the Vermont Press, the Massachusetts Press, the New England Suburban Press of New England, and any and all press unions in the Eastern states. We learn that President L. M. Marshall of the Suburban Press of New England has the matter under consideration and desires communications in regard to it from all New England Press Associations. His address is Manchester-by-the-Sea, Massachusetts.

THE EAGLES' FAIR IS ENDED

Busy Closing Scene at Freeman's Hall---Has Been a Great Success.

The Eagles four nights fair closed on Friday evening, and the closing night was a busy one. There was the largest crowd of the week present, and they kept things going lively and made short work of the goods remaining unsold.

Rowe and Parker's orchestra furnished music during the evening and gave a concert program.

The principal business of the evening was the disposition of the gifts by drawing and the announcement of the winners in the various contests.

There was considerable drawing to be done and it was late before the last results were announced.

The fair has been successful, and the members are satisfied that they gave full value for the money, and that the Dutch village was one of the prettiest settings ever seen in this city.

BASEBALL SCANDAL STARTS THE SERIES

Claim Made That Tickets Were Disposed to Speculators For $30,000 Bonus.

New York, Oct. 13.—The statement charge of the sale of boxes and strive was made in a ticket scalping agency on Broadway today that the New York Baseball Club, or some one connected therewith, had sold out the bulk of the grandstand tickets for the World's Series to a trust of speculators for a bonus of $30,000.

This $30,000 bonus, it is alleged, was paid in excess of the face value of the tickets by one man, representing the little trust, or syndicate. This day that it would be impossible for one man, in order to get his bonus, three men at three windows to sell back, planted his tickets throughout the city at $4.50 each, putting it up to the other scalpers and speculators to make whatever profit they could.

Agents for this man, higher up who paid the $30,000 bonus, so the story ran, were putting out their tickets before the public sale began in the St. James Building yesterday. All of which is only one of the many sensational developments in what promises to be the biggest scandal in the history of organized sport in America.

Tens of thousands of loyal fans, who have supported many seasons, are roaring their complaints all over the city today. Secretary Gray of the club is in a state of siege in his office in the St. James Building. The hallways are jammed with clamoring men and boys, who sent money orders and certified checks for tickets and who got not so much as an acknowledgment of the receipt of their applications.

The National Commission promises to investigate the scandal and learn if it were possible that the speculators who are now selling $2 and $3 seats for $6 and $10 were the preferred purchasers in yesterday's sale at the St. James Building or by some backdoor method of distribution.

When the first sale of individual tickets for Saturday's game between the Giants and Athletics were begun yesterday there were sheafs of tickets for Saturday's game in the hands of the big ticket scalping agencies all over the city.

Ticket agencies have been advertising the sale of World's Series tickets since Monday. Every ticket-daily house, every agency in the city has on sale boxes and seats for Saturday's game, notwithstanding that President Brush announced that he would take personal do-

NEW ENGLAND PRINTERS TO HOLD CONVENTION

The printers and allied trades of New England will hold a convention and coal congress at the American House, Boston, Tuesday October 24th to consider the various phases of cost and methods connected with many branches of the printing industry. A large representation is assured of the printers, electrotypers, photo engravers and paper jobbers of this section of the country, and the interest already shown promises a great enthusiasm and results as same from the convention held in Chicago, St. Louis and Denver. The program now being prepared assures a series of meetings which will be of immeasurable value to all who attend as some of the best known men in the country have already been secured.

BITS OF SPORT

C. W. Bass of the Country Club, who qualified on Thursday in the big golf tournament at the Country Club, Brookline, Mass., with a splendid score of 84, was put out in the first round of the match play Friday by Arthur Lockwood, who has several times won the tournament.

The high school football team journey to Wolfboro today, where they play the Brewster Academy. This will be one of the hardest games of the season, but if the boys show up, the game as well as in practice, they should win out. The team had good hard practice on Friday afternoon and are in fine shape.

The Portsmouth A. A. are to play a team from Manchester, at the play grounds this afternoon.

The Tennessee football team did not make as good a showing against the Port McKinley team as the North Carolina. The soldiers have a heavy and well coached team and when they play the North Carolina here there will be a big crowd out.

The New York baseball fans have a fine kick on over the wretched way that the tickets for the opening game in the World's series, today, were distributed. The speculators got the pick of the tickets and began offering them for sale, before the public had a look in. It is just such grasping, crooked work that ruins all sports, and if the management of the New York Giants are back of this deal, they should be given the cold shoulder by all good fans in the future.

Who will win the World's series is a question that the fans in this city are divided on. Both teams have their supporters, but to me it looks as though the Athletics are the best bet.

At the Country Club the "goat" tournament goes merrily on and it has furnished a lot of sport for the members during the season. The tournament ends next month, when the man who has the greatest number of goals in his possession will be appointed "Goat Herder" and be presented with a gold goat.

The football fans will be able to get a good line on Dartmouth today when they play Holy Cross.

THE BULL WILL.

The contest over the will of Mrs. Ole Bull aroused a great deal of interest throughout New England. It was believed that her daughter, as a result of the settlement, got substantially the whole of her mother's $500,000 estate and that the Indian beneficiaries got nothing. According to the statement of Joseph G. Thorp, however, an uncle to Mrs. Vaughan and a beneficiary under the will, this general belief is not well founded. Probably there will be felt general disappointment that the belief is not true. Under date of October 3, Mr. Thorp wrote a communication on this subject which was published in the Boston Transcript. It was as follows:

To the editor of the Transcript:

Will you permit me to correct the statement in your account of the filing of Ole Bull's will appearing in yesterday's Transcript, a statement frequently made during the recent contest—that "under the terms of Mrs. Bull's will the bulk of the half-million dollar estate was left to Hindu mystics."

Mrs. Bull did not leave a dollar to Hindu mystics. She did make the following bequests to friends in India: To an English friend, Miss Margaret B. Noble, a distinguished writer and teacher, she gave $30,000 to aid her work in the education of Indian women and girls. To Swami Sorad-manda, an Indian monk, engaged in philanthropic and religious work, she gave $5,000. To a lawyer friend she gave $500, and to her executors she gave the power in their discretion to appropriate $20,000 for the support of the scientific laboratory of Dr. J. C. Bose of Calcutta, a scientist of international reputation, in whose scientific work she was deeply interested.

It thus appears that the possible total of her gifts to Indian friends—not one of whom was a "Hindu mystic"—could not exceed $35,500; and all were made for scientific or philanthropic uses, without a suggestion of mystical or religious purpose, unless, perhaps, the $5000 gift might have been used in part for the religious work of the monastery. The further statement of your correspondent that the compromise of the will case "left virtually the entire estate to Mrs. Vaughan" is also incorrect. The terms of the compromise cannot be made public but it is fair to repeat the repeated misstatements on this point that a very substantial part of Mrs. Bull's estate will go to her other beneficiaries.

J. G. Thorp.

SHOULD UNITE.

I have of late read much concerning the matter of uniting the Free Will Baptist church with the Middle Street Baptist in your paper, and as a church attendant in the past at both houses of worship, I cannot see why there is such a protest on the part of the Pearl Street members against uniting. As a prominent pastor was lately heard to remark, "There are just three" to many churches in the city now. I know from discussing this matter with members of the Pearl Street church that there are some who favor the move and think it is a wise one. They should go to the Middle Street church because it's the largest congregation. They should go there because the church would have a better standing in the religious world. They should go there because they could meet their expenses more easily. Unite as one flock and make it better in many other ways for every church member of the denomination.

Think it over you worshippers of the Pearl Street church and decide to benefit yourselves on this proposition, which is not an entirely new one to you.

GREENLAND.

Thornton N. Weeks reached home Saturday evening from two years' stay in Pueblo, Col. He will remain here for awhile.

The harvest supper given last Thursday evening by the Helping Hand society at the town hall was largely attended and very successful. Miss Ellen M. Weeks has been in Centra Harbor for a few weeks and from there she went to Concord to visit Mrs. Louise Bullard over the Sabbath.

Miss Young, of Portsmouth, was a guest on Sunday in the Bennett house hold.

Barton Rokes of the U. S. S. North Carolina is passing a few days' leave of absence with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Rokes. His ship is now at Portsmouth navy yard where it will probably remain until the last of the month. It is due in New York the first of November for a naval review. It is a pleasure to see him and Harold Clough, our seafaring boys, at home again and both adorned with real manliness of character.

Mrs. Daniel Mahoney has returned from a trip to Boston, bringing for an indefinite stay little Miss Marion Snow, her niece.

Mrs. Celia Bell, of Portsmouth, is the guest of relatives in town.

Harrie A. Holmes came home last week from Littleton, where he has been in charge of the Hall studio for 10 weeks past, developing group photographs and portraits. He had a fine position but the season is practically closed and he was also obliged to return and complete unfinished work postponed on account of his absence. He can have a permanent engagement at the opening of the spring season at Littleton if he wishes to accept it.

Miss Lucy B. Record passed five weeks in the vicinity of St. John's and has returned from her strenuous duties as a professional nurse.

Prof. Daniel Shea, a summer resident, went back to Washington, D. C. a week or more ago.

Mrs. Theodore F. Lowd has returned from a visit to her sister in Newfields.

Mrs. Henrietta Brackett has gone to Lynn, Mass., and other places in that vicinity to remain a few weeks.

Mrs. Edward G. Clough came back last week, having concluded her visit with her daughter, Mrs. Richardson of Cambridge.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lord returned on Tuesday from Plymouth, having a delightful trip. They called on Phillip B. Green at the Holderness school and found him very well. Last Sunday morning John P. Weeks, Mrs. Morris Dodge, the Misses Maufelle and Carrie Weeks went to the First church, Exeter, to hear Rev. Mr. Driver. The theme of his discourse was "Choosing the highest," a text a combination of Paul's exhortation to the Philippians, chapter 4:8 and that of Joshua before his death "choose you this day whom you will serve." The sermon was full of helpful suggestion and earnest admonition, the necessity of choosing the highest, the tragedy of losing the best through indifference or willfulness. The things that Paul enumerated in his "whatsoevers" were only types of the countless possibilities that await the one who seeks the highest. The traveler who climbs to the mountain top meets all along the rugged way obstacles, difficulties, hardships that must be overcome. So they who choose the highest meet the same experiences, but when they reach the height of their endeavor they will find stretched out before their eager vision the whole wide range of Christ-like attainment. Choice fixes the destiny of character here and hereafter. The Greenland visitors found the services with unaltered church delight, and after that the warm-hearted welcome from pastor and people. The trip to Exeter was most attractive on that ideal October morning, for all along the highways and hedges Autumn had been here and there laying a fiery finger on the leaves, touching with brilliant beauty the waning woods everywhere, another day of blessing and privilege.

ITEMS OF INTEREST TO NAVY YARD EMPLOYEES

Says It's Not the Taylor System

It is understood that the new scientific navy yard management will be tried out at the Norfolk navy yard. This system is not the Taylor system, but is the result of the investigation of the subject by Secretary Meyer, the Vreeland board and the civilian experts. With a view to making the test, Naval Constr. H. A. Evans has been detached from the Bath Iron Works and assigned to duty at Norfolk. Later it is rumored that David V. Chadwick will be transferred from Boston to Norfolk to assist in installing the system. The understanding is that the changes which will be brought about by the system will not be so much in the method of doing the work as in the management of the yards. One of the most important features of the new system will be the Planning Board which will direct all the work. Naval Constructor Evans and Paymaster Chadwick will probably be members of this planning board.

Hard Luck All Around

The department was informed today by telegraph of the conditions delaying the U. S. S. Paducah. The burning of her steam launch and the illness of her commanding officer, being responsible for not getting under way tomorrow.

Will Take Part in Review

Thinning Out on Prison Ships

The prison ships Southey and Topaka have now the smallest number of prisoners in many months, the number being less than 200, which is due to the establishment of the detention camp at Port Royal where the most of the court marshall men are sent for minor offences.

Naval Orders

Lt. Comdr. L. Shaine, to duty as inspector of machinery works, New London Ship & Engine Co., Groton, Ct.; Lt. R. L. Irvine, to bureau steam engineering, navy department; Lt. A. K. Shopp, to naval academy, Annapolis.

Recovered from Accidents

Salvatore Cardella, electrician's helper, and George S. Gonsalon, cooper, have returned to duty after forced absence owing to injuries.

Another Trip at Noon

An extra trip has been added to the schedule of the yard ferry No. 132. The new run is 12.40 p. m. from the yard and 12.50 p. m. from Portsmouth which is said to be for the accommodation of mail carriers.

FIRE AT NAVY YARD RETIREMENT OF RAILROAD MEN

Blaze on Paducah's Steam Launch
Calls out department at 4.30
This Morning

An alarm of fire from box 32 at the navy yard at 4.30 this morning called the yard for department to the rear of the boat shop where they found the steam launch of the gunboat Paducah in a blaze. How the fire originated was a mystery as the firemen who had been at work on the boat during the day claimed to have put out the fire in the boiler early in the afternoon. The wood work of the launch was badly burned and was extinguished by a stream from the hydrant and chemical engine after a half hour's work. The boat had just been repaired in the shop and was out for a trial trip during Friday.

I WONDER

If Capt. Muchmore has tossed up his sponge as the guardian of the old and rusty Franklin Peirce?

If not why he don't get that picked crew and indulge in some indoor work to have them in trim for 1912? Why those Walham Gaelic football men think that $100 don't belong in full to Portsmouth?

Why the marine guard at the navy and don't capture some of those prizes for shooting?

Why Capt. Harriman don't put his crack shots up against the navy men?

If the plucking board who are riding around over the Boston and Maine in the "ax train" is not getting quite busy with its recommendations?

If those artists at quait throwing at the Creek have retired for good?

If that chase up High street with the big knife was not funny?

If the public won't be mixed a little where the five divisions of the Boston and Maine are known by numbers?

When Tony will ever get that wrestling bout with the navy man out on?

If the sports have not been waiting patiently to see where Tony gets off?

Why they don't pull it off in some wood shed?

Itching, bleeding, protruding or blind piles yield to Doan's Ointment. Chronic cases soon relieved, finally cured. Druggists all sell it.

BEING EXAMINED

Railroad Men Being Tried Out on Sight and Hearing.

The examiners car of the Boston and Maine railroad in charge of W. S. Sanborn has been in the railroad yard for the past two days examining the railroad employees for eyesight and hearing. The car will leave for Newburyport tonight.

LADIES TO FORM CHARITY BRANCH

Auxiliary to Knights of Columbus to Be Organized November 8

A Ladies Aid Society for strictly charitable purposes is being perfected in connection with the Portsmouth council, Knights of Columbus. The members of the society have been given the use of the council room for one day each week where they will meet and play whist. The proceeds of the card parties will be appropriated for wearing and other material on which the members will sew at every other meeting.

The articles made will be given over to the District Nursing association for distribution to the needy in the hands of Miss Sutherland as she sees fit.

The move is a grand one and is certain to lead other organizations to follow in this good work.

The society will be comprised of members' wives, daughters and sisters, and will hold the first meeting on November 8. They will have all possible assistance from the council while engaged in this work.
